I saw you wearing a welcome back Jack shirt. You checked out my booth and said you were interested. Can I interest you in some dinner? Or how about some free sunglasses? Seriously we have tons of them left over...	We've worked together for so many years, yet you've never glanced down. You turn my eternal shrug into a smile. Suru and Umberto can join in our action anytime.

While leaving Grab N Go you felt up my bag to check out what I had in there. I was sad when you didn't find anything too. You can inspect me for stolen goods anytime.	We both pulled all nighters on the lower level Wednesday night. I didn't talk to you at all but the sexual tension was so high. Same time again next week?

You're my VP of Student Affairs. Tonto to my Lone Ranger. Robin to my Batman. Cheney to my Bush. I meant to tell you how I feel after that long night of not communicating with the student body about an emergency, but I lost my nerve. If by some chance you read this and feel the same way, I'd love to build a campus with you. ;)	I was grinding on you during Club Lau until DPS came and broke us up. If you wanna finish up where we left off I'll DJ Butta you up in the stacks this Saturday night.

For as long as I can remember you've been sitting in the front circle while I'm over on a bench across Copley Lawn. I really want to sit on your lap but all you go for are Freshmen and sophomores. If you want someone with more experience you can checkmate me anytime.	I saw you playing some tennis with Andre Agassi. I was about to give you some pointers on your backhand when your secret service detail tackled me. When you told your agent to stop burying his knee in my solar plexus I thought I saw a twinkle in your eye. If you need a mixed doubles partner with Andre and Stef, tell me how many hours I was detained without an attorney.
