

HOMECOMING TRADITIONS

Chimes Night - Come to the Tombs at 8 p.m. on Thursday to hear the 75th annual performance of Georgetown's most popular bell ringing group, playing selections from their latest album such as Gunther's "Ding Ding Dong," "Addicted to You" by Simple Plan, and Lil Jon's "Get Low."

Mr. Georgetown Pageant - Started back in the 1860s during the Civil War as male students enlisted on both sides of the war. The local females held a pageant with the remaining men to find the best cowards left.

Homecoming Football Game - Also started back in the 19th century, but back then included actual deaths on the field. Today it just marks the death of our football team's hopes.

Homecoming Tailgate - Georgetown's only official tailgating event. Get drunk off cheap beer in a crowded environment. It's a West Georgetown house party you have to pay for. See all of your graduated friends who have become "real people." Back slowly away when they ask what your plans are for next year.

Lauinger Book Sale - "Wow," you say, as you see piles and piles of books selling for a buck or two. What you don't know is that any books you don't buy will be burned with the 100,000 or so others the library is destroying to make room for more desks and outlets. Buy all of them or these books' blood is on your hands!

Hoyas Unlimited 25th Annual Athletic Recognition Event -

For those of you masochists who just don't want to forget last year's first round NCAA tournament loss to VCU. Also those of you rich enough to blow 40 bucks sitting in Leo's watching other people win awards.

Corp Alumni Homecoming Happy Hour - Were you cool enough to make it into the Corp? Well this event is for you, as you get to continually shun away non-Corpies. It's just a shame that it's not in Midnight Mug.

Hilltop Challenge Homecoming 5k - Want to wake up at 8 a.m. after a long night of drinking to run five kilometers as fast as you can? A simple "no" will suffice. You can leave the expletives out of the response.

Saturday Morning Mimosas and Resumes -

Or you can continue drinking in the morning and try not to barf all over the career advisor. If you do, they'll tell you that's not appropriate in an interview.

Young Alumni Class Parties at Bars throughout Georgetown - Drink alongside other "young" Hoyas. But the only other people there will be freshmen with fakes.

Alumni Family Pumpkin Party - The info sheet says this event costs $5 per child. That means it's free to the rest of us! Get your FREE PUMPKINS on Copley Lawn Sunday morning.

Homecoming Mass - We suggest confession as a fun alternative to recount your weekend of debauchery.
