

PAGE 13 INVESTIGATIVE REPORT

Markel Starks's Trash

Last week, Vox Populi editor Jackson Perry published a photo of the vice-presidential debate placard of candidate Markel Starks, which was filled with doodles of tic-tac-toe games played against himself and musings about whether or not he was hungry. Many commenters—including Starks himself—decried Perry's choice to publish the placard. While Perry, a communist racist who hates athletes, might have questionable moral standards, Page 13 has no journalistic integrity at all. Seeking only to piss everyone off further, we went through Markel's trash last night.

Here's what we found:

- Soccer cleats and a baseball glove
- Receipt for Chinese food ordered at 2 a.m. It also indicates he only tipped 50 cents
- Incriminating photos of Dan LaMagna
- Omar Wattad
- Hundreds of crumpled up papers with hangman games on them; they are all unfinished
- Letter to the Big East indicating his intention to personally leave the Big East Conference
- Dartboard with photo of Jackson Perry in center
- Pair of sneakers from hit film, Like Mike
- Vice President Joe Biden's fake ID
- Page 13's lost dignity
